FOREWORD

"The Class Secretary"

I AM VERY PROUD of the response to my first letter with the questionnaire. Over sixty-five per cent replies were received—a Class record, I am told by the University's Class Report Office. A final count shows that 397 classmates out of 422 sent in the questionnaire. I couldn't have received a more gratifying reward to celebrate the completion of my twenty-fifth year as your Secretary.

As I warned on the questionnaire, I have supplied, in italics, comments when they have been omitted. All comments in regular type are as submitted. I am glad, after reading all comments, that I made this distinction, as otherwise I might have been accused of writing the many encomiums which appear. The number is frighteningly embarrassing and I want to assure you that my job is not an arduous one. I get a tremendous amount of pleasure from hearing from classmates. It is really a hobby which is distinctive because it can be shared with you.

Since our last Report fifty-five classmates have died, twenty more than between our 35th and 40th Reunions. Many men whom we had looked forward to seeing at this Reunion will be absent but never forgotten.

We wish to acknowledge our appreciation of the assistance given us by Miss Ruth Mahoney, the Class Report Editor, and her staff in the University's Class Report Office, especially Mrs. Carol Beveridge and Miss Ann McCoubrey.

In conclusion I wish to thank all those classmates who have sent news, however trivial it may have seemed to them, for 'SEVENTEEN MEN. Without them, this publication, which seems to please many, would not be possible. My hope is that those classmates who do not send in news will begin to do so. No matter what it is, it helps bind together one of the best of Harvard classes.

CLEMENT K. STODDER
Secretary

I just want to say, in one sentence, that the questionnaire has not been hanging around my neck like an albatross or anything else, because I found it only last night after returning from eleven weeks in Australia, on business, in a new job after "retirement" last year, going out via Hawaii and finding out, at first hand, that, with jets, distance means nothing—except as, despite the jets, it separated me from the questionnaire.

GEORGE WHEELER BENEDICT: Investment Counselor. Home Address: 15 Whitehead Rd., Cohasset, Mass. (Tel.: EVergreen 3-0951). Office Address: Loomis Sayles & Co., Inc., Boston, Mass. . . . The sixth age shifts/ Into the lean and slippered pantaloons,
With spectacles on nose and pouch on side;/ His youthful hose, well sewed, a world too wide/ For his shrunk shank; and his big manly voice/ Turning again towards childish treble, pipes/ And whistles in his sound.

Questionnaire states that "Comment" "will be supplied by the Class Secretary, in italics, if omitted," so I ask why does the Class Secretary risk the chance of being omitted? What becomes of him? What does an omitted Class Secretary look like? And are his remarks always in italics because they are unprintable in non-italics?

Having reached the mandatory age for retirement at Michigan State University, I became Professor of Bibliography in July, 1959, and spent much of a year's leave in the Southwest at Santa Fe, New Mexico, and Tucson, Arizona. I returned to the library at Michigan State University, which I had planned in 1953 and which was dedicated in 1956, to serve in various capacities. Being curator of the Douglas McMurtrie Manuscript Collection dealing with the history of printing, incidentally, and has involved publication of articles in various state historical society quarterlies. From it I hope to develop a publication program of sufficient import, with the aid of a foundation grant, to have remained in connection with Michigan State since the period of my initial retirement for a total of five academic years.

OBITUARIES

ARTHUR WILLIAMS ADAMS, JR., died June 1, 1954, at Melrose, Massachusetts. He was born January 16, 1896, in Boston, the son of Arthur Williams and Rose Alma (Tuttle) Adams. He prepared at Boston Latin School, graduated with our Class and in 1923 received an A.M. degree at Columbia University. He began teaching foreign languages at the Hoosac School in Hoosick, New York, and was appointed senior master at the school in 1923. Since the time of our Thirtieth Anniversary Report he had been teaching at the Dexter Day School in Brookline, Massachusetts. He was survived by his wife, the former Emily Frances Parent, whom he married in 1923, two children, Evangeline Mae (Mrs. Robert H. Martin) and Robert Laing, '48, and five grandchildren.

CRAIG ALDEN died September 6, 1959, at Newton, Massachusetts. He was born July 3, 1893, in Minneapolis, the son of John Willard and Rachel (Craig) Alden. He attended Boston Latin School before coming to Harvard where he received an A.B. in 1917 and an LL.B. in 1925. After service in the Army during World War I, he spent two years in the U.S. Consular Service before entering the Law School. After admission to the bar, he spent two years with a Boston law firm and since then had been practising law in association with our classmate, Robert Sanger Leland. Alden was survived by three sisters.

RAYMOND ELLIOT ASHLEY died April 1, 1958, at North Conway, New Hampshire. The son of Abiel Davis and Caroline (Morse) Ashley, he was born January 26, 1893, in New Bedford, Massachusetts. He prepared at New Bedford High School and Phillips Exeter Academy and received an A.B. at Harvard in 1919, as of our Class. He served in the Navy during World Wars I and II, and was retired from the service as a lieutenant commander. He was a salesman for various cotton firms in New York City until 1927, when he moved to New England where he worked a short time for the Frigidaire Company. Since 1928 he had been in the investment field and had been associated with the First Boston Corporation and with Gregg Storer & Company, before joining the New York Stock Exchange firm of Goodbody & Company in Boston.

He was a registered representative of this company at the time of his death. In 1921 he married Hilda Fletcher Brazer who died in 1927. They had three children: Raymond Elliot, Jr., '44, Davis Morse, '50, and Fletcher, '50. In 1928 he married Elizabeth Ingeborg Hudson and they had two children, Eleanor Hudson (Mrs. C. Brinton Medford) and Peter Olsen. Ashley was survived by his wife and children. There were nine grandchildren at the time of our last Report.

WILL M. BLISS died February 21, 1960, at Carson City, Nevada. He was born April 17, 1894, in Empire, Nevada, the son of William Seth and Mabel (Williams) Bliss. He prepared at Middlesex School and graduated from Harvard with our Class. After service in the Army during World War I, he practised architecture in San Francisco until 1933, when he entered the investment field with the firm of Greenwood-Raggio & Company, members of the San Francisco Stock Exchange. Simultaneously he operated a combination summer resort and ranch at Glenbrook, Nevada. For our last Report he wrote that he was manager of The Glenbrook Company, a resort hotel and ranch at Lake Tahoe, Nevada. He was survived by his wife, the former Hatherly Brittain whom he married in 1923, a daughter, Hatherly (Mrs. Richard H. Schutte) and a son, William Walter. There were two grandchildren at the time of our last Report.

WILLIAM JOSEPH BOLES died September 27, 1961, at New Bedford, Massachusetts. He was born April 1, 1894, in Dorchester, Massachusetts, the son of Thomas John and Hannah Gertrude (Murray) Boles. He prepared at Boston Latin School and spent four years at Harvard with our Class. After a year as athletic coach at a preparatory school, he spent a few years in the cotton brokerage field in New Bedford and then established his own business in that line, which he conducted until 1935. Since then he had been treasurer and general manager of Acushnet Iron Foundry Company, Inc., in New Bedford. He was a former president and member of the governing board of the Country Club of New Bedford. In 1933 he married Helen Wilcox and they had a son, William Joseph, Jr.

JOSHUA WARREN BROWN died November 26, 1961, at New York City. The son of William Francis and Eugenia (VanDerburg) Brown, he was born August 18, 1895, in Larchmont, New York. He prepared at Lexington (Mass.) High School, spent one year with our Class, and was a member of the Pi Eta Club. A realtor for forty-five years, he was owner of the W. Frank Brown & Son Company, parent company of the Guardian Realty Trust. After leaving college he settled in Denver, Colorado, where he held a position as a chemist in a sugar factory. He remained in or near Denver for fifteen years and then moved to Casper, Wyoming, where he lived for over a year. He then toured a large part of the country and settled in Miami, Florida, for two years before returning to Boston and entering the real estate business. During World War I, he served in the Naval Reserve.

He was a member of the Harvard Club, Boston Real Estate Society, Newton Center Improvement Association and was an adviser to the Massachusetts Appraisal League.

In 1924 he married Josephine Raugh, who died in 1938. He was survived by his second wife, the former Gertrude L. Gaw, whom he married in 1941. He had two brothers who attended Harvard: George VanDerburg Brown, '08 and Francis Brown, Jr., '13 (both deceased).

JAMES AVERELL CLARK died March 10, 1960, in New York City, where he was born July 23, 1893, the son of George Crawford and Harriet (Seymour) Averell. He prepared at the Groton School and graduated from Harvard with our Class. After service in the Navy during World War I, he started to work in Wall Street and had been associated with Rhoades & Company and Dixon & Company. Since 1934 he had been a member of the New York Stock Exchange. In World War II he was in charge of all the Red Cross Units in London. He was survived by his wife, the former Helen Hitchcock whom he married in 1919, and a son, James Averell, Jr. Another son, Thomas Hitchcock, '44, was killed in action in 1944.

JOHN MICHAEL CONNOLLY died December 21, 1960, at Baldwin, New York. He was born December 27, 1896, in New York City, the son of John Joseph and Mary Veronica (Meehan) Connolly. He prepared at Boys' High School in Brooklyn, New York, and received an A.B., cum laude, with our Class. Following service in the U.S. Navy during World War I, he worked as salesman, office manager and New York district manager for the Lamson Company and as a buyer of men's furnishings for the National Cloak & Suit Company and the Associated Merchandising Corporation. Later he went into business for himself as a merchandising consultant and in 1959 had partially retired. He was a lecturer on merchandising at New York University School of Retailing and had written many articles on publicity and retail merchandising and a book on specific phase of retail buying. He was survived by his wife, the former Grace Eileen Hurley, whom he married in 1928, a son, John Michael, Jr., '52, and a daughter, Eileen (Mother John Michael, O.S.U.).

He prepared at Stevens High School in Claremont and graduated from Harvard with our Class. After service in the Army during World War I, he entered the wool business as a buyer with Adams & Leland in Boston. In 1937 he started a business of his own in River-ton, Wyoming, dealing in farm and home equipment, wool and seed, etc. In 1950 he discontinued the farm machinery business and went into farming and sheep raising on a small scale and increased his activities in commission buying of wool and seed. In 1960 he severed his forty years' association with the wool trade, closed out his interests in Wyoming and moved to Phoenix, Arizona, where he became associated with the real estate concern of Ed Truxal. His marriage to Dorothy Whipple in 1917 ended in divorce. They had five children: Louise (Mrs. Robert Meyer); Russell Thurston, Jr., '44; Margaret Rogers (Mrs. R. Craig Campbell); Sylvia Hershey (Mrs. A. Russell Coffin, Jr.); Dorothy Deane (Mrs. Alfred R. Meyer, Jr.). He was survived by his second wife, the former Lillian Mann whom he married in 1933, and four children. There were twenty grandchildren at the time of our last Report.

WALTER GRANT GARRITT died May 5, 1959, at Newton, Massachusetts. The son of Walter Grant and Polly (Hall) Garritt, he was born May 8, 1896, in Brookline, Massachusetts. He prepared at the Volkmann School in Boston, received an A.B. at Harvard in 1917, and was a member of the Harvard baseball team. During World War I he served with the American Field Service in France and was decorated with the Croix de Guerre. After the war he became associated with the United States Leather Company, spent a year in Wisconsin and returned to Boston with that firm, remaining with them in their sales department until 1922. He then went into the paint business and with a partner developed the Decorite Company. This company eventually merged with the Craftex Company with whom he was actively associated until 1926, when he became ill. He sold his interest in the Craftex Company and retired from business except for a short time in the automobile business during 1934. He was survived by his wife, the former Josephine Adelaide Lunt, whom he married in 1925.

JOSEPH MURPHY GAZZAM, JR., died March 17, 1960, in Phila-

Philadelphia, where he was born January 8, 1895, the son of Joseph Murphy and Nellie May (Andrews) Gazzam. He prepared at St. Paul's School, graduated from Harvard with our Class and received an LL.B. degree at the University of Pennsylvania in 1921. He served as a first lieutenant in the Army during World War I and as a captain in the Air Force during World War II. He started his law career with the Philadelphia firm of Tustin & Wesley, became assistant city solicitor of Philadelphia in 1923 and a member of the firm of Peck, White, Forster & Gazzam in 1924. In 1925 he went to Florida and became a member of the Palm Beach bar and assistant local counsel for the Seaboard Airline Railway. He returned to Philadelphia in 1926, was again appointed assistant city solicitor, but was lured by Wall Street and joined an investment firm where he remained until the Depression when he returned to the practice of law. From 1935 to 1939 he was deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania and since then had been practising law in Philadelphia. He served as director of a bituminous coal company and a South American gold dredging company, and as president of a tooth powder company. He was professor of mortgages and legal ethics at the Philadelphia College of Law. He was President Eisenhower's appointee to the Assay Commission of 1953. He was chairman of the Lawyers Mortgage Company, secretary-treasurer, Dent's Run Coal Company, director of Philadelphia Grand Opera Company and a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. His marriage to Aileen Delatour Clark in 1928 ended in divorce. They had a son, Joseph Murphy, 3d, Harvard '52. Gazzam was survived by his second wife, the former Laura Hilyard Garrison, since deceased, and his son.

NOAH MOSES GEDIMAN died February 13, 1959, at Baltimore, Maryland. He was born March 14, 1897, in Boston, the son of Louis M., and Mollie (Brenner) Gediman. He attended East Boston High School before coming to Harvard where he received an A.B., cum laude, in 1917, and an LL.B. in 1930. After World War I, during which he served in the Navy, he engaged in various occupations until 1921 when he moved to Falmouth, Massachusetts, and taught music in the local schools until 1927, when he entered the Law School. In June, 1930, after admission to the bar, he returned to Falmouth and established a law practice. He was active in civic affairs in Falmouth for twenty-eight years and a special memorial fund for the Falmouth Hospital was established in his name by the townspeople.

He was chairman of the Falmouth Republican Town Committee and the School Committee, public administrator of Barnstable County, and a member of the American, Massachusetts and Barnstable Bar Associations. He was survived by his wife, the former Anna Gertrude Winer, whom he married in 1922, and a daughter, Muriel Gladys (Mrs. Saver). There were four grandchildren at the time of our last Report.

MAX HANS CHRISTIAN GERSUMKY died May 14, 1961, at Newton, Massachusetts. He was born February 15, 1894, in Weisbaden, Germany, the son of Max E. A., and Wilhelmina (Junior) Gersumky. He prepared at Boston Latin School and graduated from Harvard with our Class. He served overseas in the Army during World War I and then spent a short time with a shoe manufacturer in Lynn, Massachusetts. Since then he had been associated with Lever Brothers Company in Cambridge, soap manufacturers, and was an executive of the company at the time of his retirement. For our last Report he wrote that he had retired because of ill health. He was survived by his wife, the former Mildred Brooks Simpson, whom he married in 1924.

EDWIN HUTCHEON GIBB died March 23, 1957, at Morristown, New Jersey. He was born April 4, 1893, in Hilo, Hawaii, the son of James and Jemina (Hutcheon) Gibb. He prepared at Punahou Academy in Honolulu and spent two years at Harvard with our Class. After service as a first lieutenant in the Army during World War I, he spent two years in the lumber business and twenty-one years in the securities business in New York. He then went to the Middle West, locating and developing zinc acreages for the government. He was chief examiner and loan guaranty agent for the Veterans Administration in Newark, New Jersey, at the time of his death. In 1919 he married Aileen Alderson who survived him. They had four children: Edwin Hutcheon, Jr., Elizabeth Aileen (Mrs. Morris), Ralph Gordon and Carol Jeanette (Mrs. Smith). There were fourteen grandchildren at the time of our last Report.

JOHN RICHARD GILMAN died April 30, 1958, at Tiverton, Rhode Island. He was born April 19, 1895, in Everett, Massachusetts, the son of Dennis Joseph and Martha Louise (Riley) Gilman. He prepared at Everett High School and graduated from Harvard with our Class. After graduation he joined Lever Brothers Company and was a vice-president and a director of the company when he left in 1948 to join Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company as vice-president. In 1952 he joined the Roy S. Durstine Advertising Agency as a vice-president and two years later set up his own consulting service in Tiverton, Rhode Island. At the time of his death he had retired from business. He had written various magazine articles on advertising and merchandising and was a member of the board of trustees of Newton College. He was a member of the National Sculptors Society and the National Association for American Composers and Conductors. He was survived by his wife, the former Philomene Frances Gradie, whom he married in 1923, and four children: John Richard, Jr., '46, Barbara Ann (Mrs. Edward T. Fagan), Philomene Frances (Mrs. Lawrence E. McGourty) and Martha Ann (Sister John Frances Gilman). There were six grandchildren: John Wesley, Douglas Freese, Malcolm Livy (deceased) brothers, Stephen Joseph Gilman, '04, and Samuel Vincent Gilman, '23.

ABRAHAM ROBERT GINSBURGH died June 27, 1958, at Chicopee, Massachusetts, in the crash of a jet tanker. The son of David and Anne (Ellion) Ginsburgh, he was born May 30, 1895, in Warsaw, Russia. He attended East High School in Rochester, New York, before coming to Harvard where he received an A.B., magna cum laude, in 1917, and an LL.B. in 1936. He also received an A.M. degree at the University of Louisville in 1922, and an A.M. degree at the University of Missouri in 1931. He was in the Army from 1917 to 1953, and was a brigadier-general on Secretary Wilson's staff when he resigned to accept a position as associate editor with the U.S. News and World Report, working principally in the military field. He was director of public relations for the Air Force in 1948 and 1949.

During and after World War II, he served on the staffs of the Secretary of War and Army and Defense Secretaries. He had published miscellaneous magazine articles and since 1953 wrote military articles for the U.S. News and World Report. He was co-author of Engineering of Consent, published in 1954. He married Elsie Bullitt Pinney in 1922 and they had three children: Robert Neville, M.P.A., '48, Ph.D., '49; Anne (Mrs. Sheldon Wolfe) and Martha (twins).

CRAWFORD GOLDTHWAIT died November 20, 1957, at Winchester, Massachusetts. He was born March 11, 1896, in Malden, Massachusetts, the son of Charles and Carrie Crawford (Alexander) Goldthwait. He attended Noble and Greenough School before coming to Harvard where he received an A.B. in 1920, as of our Class, an A.M. in 1922, and a Ph.D. in 1929. After graduation he spent several years in research and study in the Department of Psychology at Harvard. He then entered the manufacturing field as treasurer of Sigma Instrument Company of Winchester and later with the Sanborn Company, makers of diagnostic medical apparatus. At the time of our last Report he was treasurer of a concern in communications in Winchester and was a member of the National Mobile Radio System. In 1920 he married Ruth Abbey who survived him. They had three children: Janet (Mrs. Maunsell Babin), Marilyn and John.
